

Terms for Freelance Services

Franciscan Media, LLC, and the person or persons making submission (“Freelancer”) hereby agree as follows:

Upon acceptance of the work(s) and agreement to compensation, freelancer will hereby grant us the following rights:

1. First worldwide serial rights to publish the work in any or all of our periodicals and to maintain it in any or all of our periodicals by any and all means or media worldwide and in any and all forms or formats, including all electronic, magnetic and digital formats, whether now known or hereafter invented, and the rights to publish, republish or license others to republish the work by any and all such means, media, forms or formats.
2. Promotional and publicity rights, including the right to use your name, biography and likeness in connection with publication and promotion of the contribution.
3. The right to edit, revise, condense, abridge, augment and retitle the contribution to suit our requirements.

Freelancer warrants originality, authorship and ownership of the contribution, that it has not been previously published, and that Franciscan Media's exercise of the rights granted will violate no copyright or other proprietary right whatsoever and will not defame any person. Also, you will indemnify Franciscan Media against any loss by reason of any (a) violation of the proprietary and copyrights of others or (b) any unlawful matter contained in the contribution.